News & Events

Two Outdoor Services at Church Starting this Sunday Morning

Starting this Sunday, August 30, we will have two outdoor services, at 8:30 a.m. and 9:45 a.m., each week in our porte cochere parking lot on the corner of Richard Arrington Jr. Boulevard and Sixth Avenue North. (The streaming service, which is recorded on Thursdays, will continue to air at 9:00 a.m. on Sundays.) You will need to sign up before coming so we can make sure that we keep numbers at a safe level. Starting each Monday morning at 9:00 a.m., you can sign up for the following Sunday at AdventBirmingham.org/Worship. The services will be our familiar Morning Prayer service, similar to what we have been streaming, lasting 45 minutes.

Everyone who comes will need to bring their own chairs, masks, water or coffee, and to help with appropriate social distancing. Please dress comfortably.

Each service will have its own 3K through 3rd grade Sunday School. These classes have a separate registration process from that of the services. Visit AdventBirmingham.org/Worship for Sunday School sign-up information.

A Word from the Dean

Has God ever said “no” to one of your prayers? It is not an easy response to receive. Initially we may think that God is just not listening, because we must certainly know what is best.

But given time we join Garth Brooks, seeing God’s “no” working itself out, sometimes even being grateful that he did not say “yes.”

I have always served “successful” churches, meaning I have rarely had to experience a scarcity of resources for ministry. This is a great blessing, but can lead to an unhealthy assumption that God is simply going to bless every initiative. At a place like the Advent, it is easy to think we have a Midas Touch, and failure is rarely considered, much less experienced.

Over the past few months, the vestries of the Advent and Holy Cross (Trussville) have decided to end our formal partnership. From one perspective, it seems that a ministry endeavor was a failure; but from another, God has simply said “no.” Failure and God saying no are not the same.

Our relationship with Holy Cross began when we partnered with the Diocese to help struggling churches become stronger and self-supporting in areas with growing populations. The Diocese asked if we might consider Holy Cross, whose rector had just left. Joe Gibbes was sent from our staff, and the Advent began our ministry with Holy Cross. After Joe’s departure, our relationship continued through Steve DeGweck’s interregnum, and into Wes Sharp’s term as rector.

The vestry of Holy Cross has determined that even with the Advent’s financial support, it is unable to support a full-time rector. As such, Wes Sharp will end his ministry at Holy Cross on August 31. Holy Cross is searching for a part-time rector to take his place.

Your vestry has voted to bring Wes Sharp on staff at the Advent for a brief period from September 1 through December 31. This will allow the Sharps a time of respite in the midst of our ministry together, as Wes and Allison discern the next steps the Lord would have them take.

Our hopes for Trussville were not realized. God has said “no,” but it has not been a failure. For me, it was a valuable learning experience and I am not discouraged. I trust lives have been changed over the last six years through the ministry at Holy Cross. Though we do not have the clarity of hindsight to see the why quite yet, I am certain that God is working out all things for the good for those who love him and are called according to his purpose.

- Andrew

Praise Service

Thursday Service Moves to Tuesday in the Garden

Our Thursday-morning service is moving to Tuesday! We are excited to bring back our mid-week worship service with a new day and time. Join us in the Rector's Garden at 7:30 a.m. on Tuesdays. This service is open to all! Masks and social distancing will be required as we worship together. Contact Bethany Rushing (Bethany@CathedralAdvent.com) for more information.

Worship Intern

Emily Hanrahan to Serve During this School Year

The Advent is excited to welcome our 2020-2021 Intern in Liturgy and Worship. Emily Hanrahan (right) began this month and will work alongside Zac Hicks and Annie Lee for the school year, helping to facilitate, plan, and lead our worship services. A senior at Samford University majoring in music and worship, Emily has considered the Advent her church home and has attended and served here (in both our music and outreach ministries) throughout her time in college. Emily grew up in Hoover, is a gifted musician and singer (you've seen her singing on some of our streamed services this summer), and is discerning a call of vocational ministry on her life. In Emily's words, "I love the Advent!"

Rally Day Picnic

Event Canceled this Year Due to Covid-19

Unfortunately, we have canceled our Rally Day Picnic this year. Given the concerns about the coronavirus and the understandable limitations at the zoo for large gatherings, we will not be able to enjoy our afternoon gathering together. Though this likely does not surprise anyone, it is still a disappointment to many of us. We have already made our reservation at the zoo for the Rally Day Picnic for 2021. Lord willing, we will see everyone there!

Children's Ministry

"Pops at the Park" with Tara and Lucy Kate

"Pops at the Park" was a great success! Families and children signed up to gather briefly at Central Park or Overton Park on August 9 and 12 for introductions and fellowship. Children enjoyed the fresh air and a delicious popsicle, and we enjoyed meeting many children and families! Though everyone practiced social distancing, the atmosphere produced a newfound closeness with one another. For families that were unable to attend, we would still love to meet you. Reach out to Tara Davis, Director of Children's Ministries (Tara@CathedralAdvent.com), or Lucy Kate Green to arrange a get-together.

Advent Small Groups

Take the Small Group Leap of Faith

Joining a small group is a leap of faith, a plunge into hearing the word more deeply. People are made for community; even those of us who do better in small doses of community find our hearts and minds more open to Holy Scripture when read with the viewpoints and ideas and just plain presence of others.

In a small group we have a leader to share research and wisdom with us, to encourage questions, and to lead us in prayer, all things we would miss if studying alone. But that's just the beginning, for in a small group we listen to each other's thoughts and questions. Hearing what the passage means to someone else gives perspective to our own interpretations and thus amplifies our understanding of God's truth and grace. I often hear things expressed that I didn't have the words for. I hear questions I can't answer and realize again how much there is to learn. And for sure I often say things I didn't know I knew, thoughts which never would have come to life without kind listeners!

All the while our care and appreciation grow deeper toward our fellow members. There is an intimacy to studying Scripture together, to feeling our way through the great questions. As we listen to the word through our own lives, we are more known to one another, grounded in forgiveness and understanding, which leads to friendly listening and a good bit of laughing at ourselves.

We pray for each other, and see the Lord's hand in our lives. I have found all I have described to be true in every group I have been with, from new ones to decades old, for the Holy Spirit makes it so!

- Robin Anderson

With our ability to gather together restricted, small groups are many people's primary contact with the church. We are working on forming new groups that we hope will begin this fall. Please contact Fontaine Pope (Fontaine@CathedralAdvent.com, 205-443-8562) if you are interested in joining one.

Parish-Wide Reading

Reading of The Pilgrim's Progress Kicks Off on Rally Day

What is it about The Pilgrim's Progress that has made it one of the bestselling books in history, second only to the Bible in sales? Let's find out! Join us in reading this book this fall. Dean Andrew Pearson will kick off our reading with an introduction to the book in the Dean's Class on Rally Day Sunday, September 13. You can order one of the two editions we recommend from the Advent Bookstore (205-323-2959), which is open on Wednesdays, 10:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m. For more information contact Fontaine Pope (205-443-8562, Fontaine@CathedralAdvent.com).
